Our "impossible" is God's "I got this"

Ever wonder if God still does miracles? Does God get directly involved in human events? Does He care about the small details of your life? Or does He reserve His power for just the big events on the world stage?

Bestselling author Mark Batterson and his son Parker believe that miracles are not just something God did in the past--they're something He wants to do now, in the present, in your life. In this eye-opening book, they

- reveal the incredible power of the seven miracles of Jesus found in the Gospel of John
- share true stories of people today who are experiencing miracles in their lives
- bring to light the countless miracles, big and small, we take for granted every day

Whether mind-boggling or minuscule, all of these miraculous signs point us toward the One who healed the sick, calmed the storm, and even raised the dead.

Nothing has changed since Jesus called Lazarus out of his tomb four days after his funeral. No matter how big your problem is, He is still the God who makes the impossible possible!

Mark Batterson is the New York Times bestselling author of The Circle Maker. He is the lead pastor of National Community Church, one church with seven campuses in Washington, DC. Mark has a doctor of ministry degree from Regent University and lives on Capitol Hill with his wife, Lora, and their three children.

Parker Batterson is a student at Southeastern University where he is studying film. His passions include photography, music, and extreme hikes. He has written two other books with his father.
